Aegis Will Launch Vampire® Pro and Team: Military and Commercial Drone Simulation Training System at AUVSI Xponential Conference Booth #2724

Huntsville, Alabama (March 28, 2017) - Leveraging 10 years of Unmanned Air System (UAS) simulation and training experience, Aegis Technologies will showcase its new Vampire® Pro and Team drone training system at the AUVSI Xponential Conference May 8-11 in Dallas, Texas. Visit Aegis Booth #2724 for demonstrations on its latest training system for both the military and commercial drone training markets.

Vampire® Pro Drones/UAS Simulation Training Solution

Vampire® Pro is an affordable, high fidelity, commercial and scalable drone operator training simulator solution. The system provides a robust and challenging training environment in drone application and operations which allows operators the opportunity to get hands-on drone operation experience in realistic virtual scenarios and applications without risk to property or personnel.

Features:

- Fixed and multi-rotor wing vehicle(s) performance dynamics
- Turnkey (includes necessary hardware/software components)
- High fidelity, geo-typical virtual training environments: urban, sea and mountain areas
- Application scenarios: oil rig inspection, oil refinery inspection, bridge inspection, cell tower inspection and missing person search
- System malfunctions: loss of link, fixed payload
- Mission Planning Capability
- Customization(s) available as an option
 - Specific vehicle performance tuning
 - Integration of customer specific ground station/controls
 - Custom area virtual databases
 - Software only installation on your hardware (must meet minimum H/W & S/W specifications)
 - Licensing options: perpetual (standard), enterprise, term and dongle (movable)
